Assisted with setting up batteries for receivers for camera signals.

Check the online network to make sure everything is set up and prepared for service.

Ensuring the soundboard is working properly and safely.

Mic'ing the pastors and installing batteries in mics for the praise team.

And that all the tech helping with our service works at its best, and checks if the signal is good for Facebook and YouTube.

Once the service is over, turn off all TVs and ensure that platforms are done recording and the tech has shut down.

Learning and adapting to service programs to know what is expected and what shots to take to make the audience feel more engaged.

Furthermore, I contributed to other techniques and synced photography into the mix to gain ideas on what each sign is implementing, such as the rule of thirds.

If we have late-night concerts, I either stay in the background doing robes, which is controlling other rotating cameras on the floor.
